

Instruction for visual studio

- 1, open visual studio, select create new project
- 2, on left hand side, select Visual C++
- 3, choose empty C++ project
- 4, set your location in desktop( so that you can find it)
- 5, In Solution Explorer (If there's no such explorer on your screen, press Ctrl + Alt + L or open it in view -> solution explorer ), Right click your project, choose add -> new item -> C++ file
- 6, write your code

How to create a new C++ project in one solution?

In step 5 right click your solution choose add -> new item -> and then repeat step 3 to 6

To run your new project, right click your new project and click set as start up project